III. Message: Words Create Worlds, by Hannah Stevens

1. Introduction

2. Created to Create: The Power of Words

- God formed the world with a word—"Let there be light" (Gen. 1:3).
Our words carry that same creative potential in the spiritual and relational realms.
- Proverbs 18:21 – Life and death are in the power of the tongue.
Our speech can bless or curse, heal or harm, build up or tear down.
- Romans 4:17 – God calls things that are not as though they were. (the God who gives life to the dead and calls into being things that were not.)
When we speak in faith, we reflect His creative nature.

Challenge: Are your words giving life—or draining it? Are you echoing the voice of the Father or the fear of the flesh?

3. How Jesus Modeled Transformational Conversation

1. Jesus Spoke Life

- To the woman caught in adultery: "Neither do I condemn you. Go now and leave your life of sin." – John 8:11
Grace and truth, spoken together, broke shame and invited transformation.

2. Jesus Spoke to the Real Person, Not Just the Present Problem

- The Samaritan Woman at the Well (John 4), Nathaniel the Sceptic (John 1), Matthew the Tax Collector (Matthew 9:9-13)
 - He spoke identity before an individual had become that person. This kind of speech doesn't ignore the issue, but it speaks to who the person is becoming.

3. Jesus Searched people out with Questions

- “Do you want to be well?” (John 5:6), “Why are you so afraid?” (Mark 4:40), “Who do you say I am?” (Matthew 16:15)
Jesus formed people not just with answers, but with questions that drew them closer to truth.

4. Jesus Stayed Present in the Pain

- With Mary and Martha in grief (John 11), or with Peter in restoration (John 21):
He didn't avoid pain—He stepped into it with presence and purpose. Being present in someone's pain forms deep trust and allows the Holy Spirit to minister.

Takeaway: Jesus didn't just preach sermons. He formed people through conversation—truthful, grace-filled, Spirit-led words.

4. Conclusion: Our Words Become Our Witness

- “By this all will know you are my disciples...” – John 13:35
It's not just our theology, but our tone and truth in love that reveal Christ.
- Words can call light into darkness, name identity, restore the broken, and form community.

5. Call to Action: What will you Choose?

Speak Life, Speak to the Person not the Problem, Search People out with Questions, Stay Present in the Pain
