III. Message: Conversations with Non-Christians, by Hazen Stevens

Introduction: The Foundation of Spiritual Conversations

- Key Image: The Power of Sowing
→ Visual Aid: Unsown bed, Sown bed, Blossoming bed
- Main Idea: The sown and unsown can look similar—faith sows in hope of harvest
- Call: Put seeds in the soil of people's hearts
- Promise: A harvest of righteousness if we do not lose heart

Part One: We Sow and Nurture Seeds of Truth

- Biblical Anchor: The Parable of the Sower (Luke 8:4–15)
- Paul's View: "God... makes things grow" (1 Cor. 3:6–7)
- Kingdom Mystery: Growth happens beyond our understanding (Mark 4:26–29)
- Practice: Prayer as Seed Sowing
→ Ask: "What can I be praying for you this week?"

Part Two: We Sow in Love

- Tone Matters: “Full of grace, seasoned with salt” (Col. 4:6)
→ Illustration: Seasoned vs. unseasoned food
 - Power of Love: Without love, our words are noise (1 Cor. 13:1)
 - Speak Truth in Love: Clarity is kindness (Eph. 4:15)
 - Jesus Our Model: “Full of grace and truth” (John 1:14)
→ People were drawn to Him (Luke 15:1)
 - Approach: “Gentleness and respect” in witness (1 Peter 3:15)

Part Three: We Persevere as Faithful Witnesses

- Identity: We live formed lives on mission like Jesus, the Faithful Witness
 - Today’s Witness: Testify through a transformed life
 - Declare His Praises: Called out of darkness into light (1 Peter 2:9)
→ Share victories, growth, answered prayers
 - Compelled to Speak: “We cannot help...” (Acts 4:20)
 - Our Proclamation: What we’ve seen, heard, touched (1 John 1:1–3)
 - Ambassadors: God makes His appeal through us (2 Cor. 5:20)
→ We are not judges or prosecutors—we are witnesses

Conclusion: A Simple Recipe for Transformation

1. Sow and nurture seeds of truth
2. Do so in love, seasoned with grace
3. Persevere as faithful witnesses

The Promise:

- Love well
- Transform lives
- Invite the Holy Spirit into every conversation
