III. A Culture of Spiritual Hunger, Billy Humphrey

I. Introduction: A Culture of Spiritual Hunger

- Three-week focus on spiritual hunger and what it looks like to live as a spiritual family.
- Spiritual hunger is an essential edge in the Christian walk:
 - Perseveres through trials
 - Stays faithful in mundane seasons
 - Seeks God in dry times
 - Presses in when God is moving
- Without spiritual hunger we pursue other things above God, atrophy in our walk, lose vision, and cast off discipline.
- Spiritual hunger trumps giftedness every time.
- It has nothing to do with abilities or performance.
- Anyone can be spiritually hungry.
- Hunger is currency in the Kingdom of God.
 - God moves toward desire.
 - He fills the hungry (Luke 1:53).

II. Biblical Examples of Spiritual Hunger

- Moses – “If Your presence doesn’t go with us... Please show me Your glory.” (Exod. 33)
- David – “My soul thirsts for You... in a dry and thirsty land.” (Ps. 63:1)
- Paul – Counting all things loss to gain Christ and know Him. (Phil. 3:7–10)
- Spiritual hunger expresses itself in pursuit.
 - Not how much we serve, but how much we seek.
 - Not seeking Him for what He gives, but for Him.
 - Our schedule reveals our hunger.

III. Barriers to Spiritual Hunger

A. We Are Already Full (Prov. 27:7)

- Competing affections: entertainment, media, sports, politics.
- Addiction is misdirected hunger.
- Anything pursued more than God becomes an idol.

B. We See God as a Program, Not a Person

- Christianity treated as a system instead of a relationship.
- Event-based Christianity produces shallow faith.
- Our spirituality should not change when we leave the building.

C. We Have Gotten Too Busy (Rev. 2:1–7)

- Ephesus labored faithfully but left their first love.
- The way back is doing the first works.

D. We Have Been Lulled to Sleep (Eph. 5:14)

- Subtle, normalized sins dull desire.
- Hunger for God begins with hunger for righteousness (Matt. 5:6).

IV. Stirring Up Spiritual Hunger

- Get Empty – Remove constant distraction.
- Remember – Recall what God has done (2 Pet. 1:13).
- Pray for Revelation – Seeing Him fuels desire (Eph. 1:17–21).
- Fast – We live not by bread alone (Matt. 4:4; Deut. 8:3).
