III. How to Master Money before it Masters You, Hazen Stevens

Matthew 6:24 (ESV) “No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money.”

I. The Question Nobody Asks

When we talk about financial success, we usually ask the wrong question.

We ask: How do I make more money? What strategy should I use? What career should I pursue?

Those are second questions. The first question is:

Who — or what — are you ultimately trusting?

Jesus said: “You cannot serve both God and money.” (Matthew 6:24) The heart cannot split its loyalties.

II. The Real Root of Financial Struggle

The Bible does not say money is the root of evil.

It says: “The love of money is the root of all kinds of evil.” (1 Timothy 6:10)

Money is a tool. Love is a posture of the heart. When the heart clings to money, it produces: wandering from faith and self-inflicted grief. Scripture shows this pattern again and again.

Cain withheld from God. Judas secretly loved money. Ananias and Sapphira wanted the appearance of generosity without surrender. Each story began the same way: A heart holding something back from God.

III. The Subtle Danger

The love of money does not always look like greed. Sometimes it looks like: anxiety, comparison, covetousness

Jesus said: “The eye is the lamp of the body...” (Matthew 6:22–23)

When our eyes are filled with coveting, we lose sight of what God is doing in our own lives.

IV. Three Rhythms of Faithful Wealth

Wealth that honors God follows three rhythms.

1. Submit

Before strategy, there is a posture decision. Will God be above your ambition for wealth? Submission involves three resources:

- Time
- Talent
- Treasure

True submission says: Everything I have belongs to God's purpose.

2. Trust

Submission is a decision. Trust is a practice. This is where generosity lives.

We don't give to get. We give to give.

God promises: “Bring the whole tithe... and see if I will not open the floodgates of heaven.” (Malachi 3:10)

3. Produce

When submission and trust are in place, production follows.

“The blessing of the Lord brings wealth, and he adds no sorrow to it.”

(Proverbs 10:22)

God's blessing produces increase without destroying your peace.

And diligence still matters:

“Lazy hands make for poverty, but diligent hands bring wealth.”

(Proverbs 10:4)

V. Two Signs Your Wealth Is Healthy

1. It is growing.

Faithful stewardship produces increase.

2. Your love for God is growing with it.

Healthy wealth deepens devotion.
